

Are we all born equal?

Roots and Shoots.

We are going to learn about The Royal family! These tasks are designed to help extend our learning at home. Please complete at least 2 activities from the list below, and bring your homework into school throughout the half-term. Please note that display space is limited - we share and value all homework but don't always have room to display everything.

Create your own family tree.	Create your own dance routine to Lion King 'Oh I just can't wait to be king!'	Make a crown inspired by the crown jewels.
The King has many residences. Take virtual tour of Blenheim Palace. Link below.	Design your own family crest.	Find out what the King's favourite food is and cook it to enjoy at home!
Write a letter to the King telling him about your family and asking him about his.	Have a look at different coins. Work out their value. What is the oldest coin you can find that is still in use?	Make a poster about the Royal Family's duties and roles. What do they do all day?
Design your own King Charles stamp.	Make your own Sceptre and Orb from the Coronation.	Learn the National Anthem - God Save the King.
