

Using Brackets

Insert one or two pairs of brackets in the correct place(s) in the sentences below.

With the second-largest economy in the world the largest being the United States China has a huge influence on international relations.

Harry who is 5 years old wanted to join in with the game Lee and Kellie were playing, but Lee who is much older than Harry said he was not big enough.

The Shard 309 metres and One Canada Square 235 metres are the two tallest buildings in Britain, both easily dwarfing Big Ben.

The Jackson 5 Jackie, Tito, Jermaine, Marlon and Michael were a set of five brothers who became world famous as a pop group.

Ken 58, of Dorchester, Dorset and Audrey 56, of Canterbury, Kent met at a dance and discovered that both sets of their parents had worked together abroad.

The smallest dog since records began was a tiny 6.5cm 2.5 inches tall at its shoulder and a miniscule 9.5cm 3.75 inches long from nose to tail tip!

Queen Elizabeth II became Queen in 1952 is the longest reigning British monarch; she broke Queen Victoria's record of 63 years 1837 – 1901 in 2015.

The current land speed record the record for the fastest speed achieved by a land vehicle is held by Andy Green in 'Thrust SSC' and stands at 763mph.

The marathon 26.22 miles is a race named after a story from Ancient Greece where a man ran to Athens from a place called Marathon to warn people about an invasion.

The F.B.I. Federal Bureau of Investigation and the C.I.A. Central Intelligence Agency are two important parts of America's security services.

A famous palindrome a word or sentence which reads the same backwards or forwards is 'Never odd or even.'

Don Quixote published in 1605 is one of the earliest novels, and tells the story of a man who becomes obsessed with knights and ends up charging at windmills on his horse.

Using Brackets

Insert one or two pairs of brackets in the correct place(s) in the sentences below.

With the second-largest economy in the world (the largest being the United States) China has a huge influence on international relations.

Harry (who is 5 years old) wanted to join in with the game Lee and Kellie were playing, but Lee (who is much older than Harry) said he was not big enough.

The Shard (309 metres) and One Canada Square (235 metres) are the two tallest buildings in Britain, both easily dwarfing Big Ben.

The Jackson 5 (Jackie, Tito, Jermaine, Marlon and Michael) were a set of five brothers who became world famous as a pop group.

Ken (58, of Dorchester, Dorset) and Audrey (56, of Canterbury, Kent) met at a dance and discovered that both sets of their parents had worked together abroad.

The smallest dog since records began was a tiny 6.5cm (2.5 inches) tall at its shoulder and a miniscule 9.5cm (3.75 inches) long from nose to tail tip!

Queen Elizabeth II (became Queen in 1952) is the longest reigning British monarch; she broke Queen Victoria's record of 63 years (1837 – 1901) in 2015.

The current land speed record (the record for the fastest speed achieved by a land vehicle) is held by Andy Green in 'Thrust SSC' and stands at 763mph.

The marathon (26.22 miles) is a race named after a story from Ancient Greece where a man ran to Athens from a place called Marathon to warn people about an invasion.

The F.B.I. (Federal Bureau of Investigation) and the C.I.A. (Central Intelligence Agency) are two important parts of America's security services.

A famous palindrome (a word or sentence which reads the same backwards or forwards) is 'Never odd or even.'

Don Quixote (published in 1605) is one of the earliest novels, and tells the story of a man who becomes obsessed with knights and ends up charging at windmills on his horse.

Using Brackets

Insert one or two pairs of brackets in the correct place(s) in the sentences below.

Amelia who was dressed as a fairy and Riley who was dressed like a wizard spent the whole party zapping out imaginary spells.

Gary Duncan better known as 'The Juggling Clown' performs dramatic and hilarious shows every Saturday on the main street of his city.

Two friends Alice Jones, 24; Becca Roberts, 23 became an internet sensation when a video of them singing was seen by over 6 million people in one week.

Dolphins which come to the surface to breathe and sharks which breathe through their gills look similar but are in fact very different types of sea creature.

Karate a martial art originating in Japan is practised by an estimated 100 million people worldwide.

The men's world long jump record 8.95m is held by Mike Powell. The women's world long jump record 7.52m is held by Galina Chistyakova.

Dylan a comedian from London was astonished to find out that a video of one of his shows had been seen by a television executive, and that he might get to appear on TV!

Albert Einstein 1879-1955 was the greatest physicist of the 20th century. He received the Nobel Prize in Physics the best award a physicist can win in 1921.

The Jungle Book first published in 1894 is a collection of stories written by author Rudyard Kipling. It has since been turned into two feature films.

Robert Wadlow 1918-1940 is recognised as the tallest person to have lived since records began. He stood 8 feet 11 inches 2.72m tall.

The Great Fire of London 1666 began in Pudding Lane and went on to consume the houses of 70,000 residents 87.5% of the city's population in just four days.

The O.B.E. Officer of the Order of the British Empire and the M.B.E. Member of the Order of the British Empire are honours given out each year by the Queen.

Using Brackets

Insert one or two pairs of brackets in the correct place(s) in the sentences below.

Amelia (who was dressed as a fairy) and Riley (who was dressed like a wizard) spent the whole party zapping out imaginary spells.

Gary Duncan (better known as 'The Juggling Clown') performs dramatic and hilarious shows every Saturday on the main street of his city.

Two friends (Alice Jones, 24; Becca Roberts, 23) became an internet sensation when a video of them singing was seen by over 6 million people in one week.

Dolphins (which come to the surface to breathe) and sharks (which breathe through their gills) look similar but are in fact very different types of sea creature.

Karate (a martial art originating in Japan) is practised by an estimated 100 million people worldwide.

The men's world long jump record (8.95m) is held by Mike Powell. The women's world long jump record (7.52m) is held by Galina Chistyakova.

Dylan (a comedian from London) was astonished to find out that a video of one of his shows had been seen by a television executive, and that he might get to appear on TV!

Albert Einstein (1879-1955) was the greatest physicist of the 20th century. He received the Nobel Prize in Physics (the best award a physicist can win) in 1921.

The Jungle Book (first published in 1894) is a collection of stories written by author Rudyard Kipling. It has since been turned into two feature films.

Robert Wadlow (1918-1940) is recognised as the tallest person to have lived since records began. He stood 8 feet 11 inches (2.72m) tall.

The Great Fire of London (1666) began in Pudding Lane and went on to consume the houses of 70,000 residents (87.5% of the city's population) in just four days.

The O.B.E. (Officer of the Order of the British Empire) and the M.B.E. (Member of the Order of the British Empire) are honours given out each year by the Queen.